

Residual concordance across a priori network edges

Positive values mean both connected regions deviate in the same

